DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claim. 1-8, 10-14, 39-53 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. [note: All claims are added to this rejection merely because of their dependency from claim 1. No change has occurred in the 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph rejection grounds].

There is now claimed as the amended independent claim (by preliminary amendment) two negative limitations. These limitations do not appear to be explicitly disclosed in applicant's specification.

Art Unit: 1762

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claim 50 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claim does not further limit the claim it depends on.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 1-8, 10-14, 30-41, 44-53 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by PCT 99/35520 (Winterton et al).

Winterton et al discloses surface treatment of a plastic article as a contact lens. The plastic article is immersed in an aqueous solution of the polyionic materials. The first polyionic material is preferably a polycationic material such as polytetraethyleneimine) and the second polyionic material is a polyanionic material such as polytmethylacrylic acid (see claims 7-9).

Regarding a washing step, there is disclosed such on page 5, para 5. Molecular weights in the range claimed are disclosed on page 12, para 2.

The carboxyl functional polymer is disclosed as PARA on page 9.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 42-43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over PCT 99/35520 (Winterton et al) in view of Heiler et al.

Winterton discloses what is described above.

Winterton et al does not disclose autoclaving after immersion.

Hailer et al teaches autoclaving after immersion (col 12, lines 33-35).

It would have been obvious to one with ordinary skill in the art to include autoclaving after immersion because Hailer teaches such for sterilization purposes (col 12, lines 33-35).

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments filed have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

The reference to Winterton et al utilizes a two step coating procedure, but there is not described a "pre-treatment".

There is claimed "carboxyl" not "polycarboxyl" in claim 1.

Regarding the negative limitations being supported by the originally supported specification, the argument of implication is not convincing since the term "pretreatment" is not defined. In applicant's specification, page4, lines 22-26 there is described in the prior art what may be considered "pretreatment".

Conclusion

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
